

ESTIMATING INTEGRATION

ProEst + Acumatica

Connect your estimating and accounting solutions with a single click.

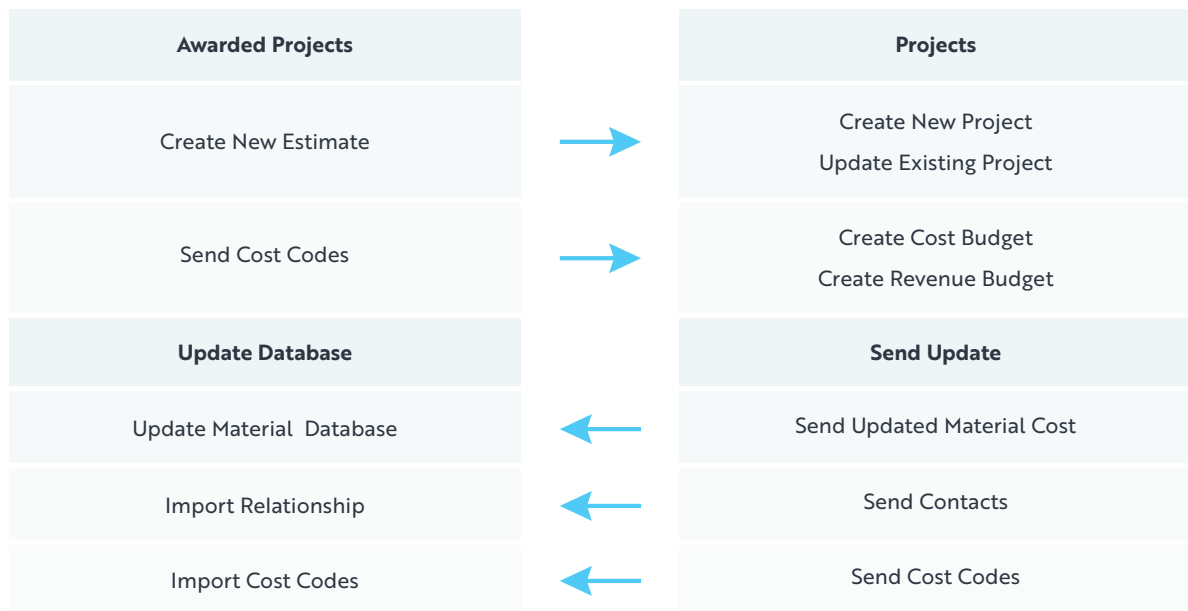

Tracking down data from multiple, unconnected sources isn't time well spent, especially when multiple jobs are running at the same time. That's why it makes sense to connect ProEst with your Acumatica accounting solution, creating a seamless flow of information that's accurate, complete and fully up-to-date. Because data is transferred automatically, there's no need for back-office staff to re-enter and verify project information. Result? Your company can focus on building, not paper-work—and stay in control of finances from start to finish.

Why ProEst + Acumatica integration matters

Making sure that your construction projects make—not lose—money is an essential part of construction business success, but unintended data errors can get in the way. ProEst + Acumatica integration changes all that, moving data from the estimating phase to accounting tasks automatically. Without the need to re-enter and verify information, you save time and effort, and the accuracy of your project information is virtually guaranteed.
