

ESTIMATING INTEGRATION

ProEst + MYOB

The visibility and financial control you need to keep projects on track.

Tracking down data from multiple, unconnected sources isn't time well spent, especially when multiple jobs are running at the same time. That's why it makes sense to connect ProEst with your MYOB accounting solution, creating a seamless flow of information that's accurate, complete and fully up-to-date. Because data is transferred automatically, there's no need for back-office staff to re-enter and verify project information. Result? Your company can focus on building, not paperwork—and stay in control of finances from start to finish.

Why ProEst + MYOB integration Construction matters

Making sure that your construction projects make—not lose—money is an essential part of construction business success, but unintended data errors can get in the way. ProEst + MYOB integration changes all that, moving data from the estimating phase to accounting tasks automatically. Without the need to re-enter and verify information, you save time and effort, and the accuracy of your project information is virtually guaranteed.
