Why ProEst + Sage Intacct integration matters

Every contractor knows that time is money, and that unintentional accounting errors can do damage to the bottom line. That's why making sure that your estimating and financial management platforms work together is so important, the key to more efficient workflows and improved data accuracy. By integrating ProEst and Sage Intacct, data from project estimates transfers automatically to Sage Intacct, eliminating the need to re-enter and verify information for accounting and financial management tasks. You save time. You save money. And a new level of financial accuracy is virtually guaranteed.
